

Pakistan Mineral Development Corporation (PMDC) participated in the 4th NSPP Public Policy Conference on “Rare Earth Minerals in Pakistan: Opportunities & Challenges.” Representing PMDC as a Keynote Speaker, our Managing Director Engr. Asad Ahmad highlighted PMDC’s growing engagement and collaboration with international mining organizations, particularly with leading mining firms from Uzbekistan. He emphasized that Uzbekistan’s mining industry has emerged as a regional powerhouse over the past decade, offering valuable lessons and opportunities for knowledge exchange, technology collaboration, and strategic partnerships. The conference brought together key stakeholders from the public sector, industry, academia, and the mineral sector to explore Pakistan’s potential in rare earth and critical minerals and discuss pathways to strengthen the country’s mineral industry through innovation, advanced technology, sustainable development, and strategic international partnerships. PMDC remains committed to contributing to the development of Pakistan’s mineral sector and unlocking the country’s vast mineral potential through collaboration, technology, and responsible mining.
